The spotlight/practice showcase will be a place for Washington State Academy members to display and present new and/or exciting ventures, projects or a volunteer project in the field of nutrition and food management.

Topics for the practice showcase are endless (professionals in private practice, RDs/RDNs working on new ventures, undergraduate or graduate students completing a project, volunteer or class project or another interesting and educational activity they would like to share).

The Washington State Academy is looking forward to this opportunity for RDs/RDNs to share food and nutrition related activities, information and projects!
