

The State of Washington

Proclamation

WHEREAS, food is the substance by which life is sustained; and

WHEREAS, the type, quality, and amount of food that individuals consume each day play a vital role in their overall health and physical fitness; and

WHEREAS, it is important to eat fruits and vegetables to maintain good health and in order to meet the recommended daily requirements, fruits and vegetables should be included with every meal; and

WHEREAS, fewer than one in 10 children and adults eat the daily recommended amount of vegetables; and

WHEREAS, poor nutrition results in many chronic conditions that are expensive to treat, such as obesity, type 2 diabetes, heart disease, and some cancers; and

WHEREAS, breastfeeding is the best source of nutrition for infants, and breastfeeding can reduce the risk of certain long-term health conditions; and

WHEREAS, there is a need for continuing nutrition education and a wide-scale effort to enhance eating practices;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jay Inslee, Governor of the state of Washington, do hereby proclaim March 2021 as in Washington, and I encourage all people in our state to join me in this special observance.

Nutrition Month

Signed this 9th day of February, 2022

Governor Jay Inslee

